Ron Sarubbi represents corporate trust companies and the corporate trust departments of major banking institutions in domestic and cross-border debt capital market transactions.

Ron's practice ranges from traditional unsecured indentures for corporate and municipal debt, escrow, custody and agency agreements, to more sophisticated novel types of secured project financings and asset-backed transactions involving companies and projects that are located in the U.S. and in various emerging markets throughout Latin America and Asia. He has also worked with secured and unsecured creditors and disbursing agents in numerous defaulted debt restructurings.

Prior to joining Pryor Cashman, Ron worked in the corporate trust department of The Chase Manhattan Bank. He leverages this past work experience with his legal training to provide his clients with a unique and comprehensive understanding of the issues facing indenture trustees.

Ron's representative clients include:

- The Bank of New York Mellon
- The Bryn Mawr Trust Company
- Goldman Sachs Bank USA
- HSBC Bank USA, N.A.
- Law Debenture Trust Company of New York
- Union Bank, N.A.
- U.S. Bank, N.A.
- Wells Fargo Bank, N.A.
- Wilmington Trust Company

Speaking Engagements

- Panelist, Corporate and Business Law Society Alumni Career Panel, New York Law School, Manhattan (2007, 2009, 2010)
- Ron frequently lectures to groups of trust professionals on various corporate trust topics
